

Make money doing something you already love!

At some point everyone dreams of finding the perfect niche. Something important. Something to be passionate about. And something rewarding—both financially and emotionally. For many, becoming a personal publishing consultant with Heritage Makers was exactly what they were looking for. Consultants enjoy a wide range of benefits, but most important, they LOVE what they do! As a Heritage Makers consultant you will:

- Be part of a company with a powerful mission of preserving family legacies.
- Share in the joy that comes from helping people create quality projects they will treasure forever.
- See personal growth as you lead and inspire others
- Meet new friends who share your passion
- Receive incredible rewards as you build an incredible business
- Save an additional 10% when you publish
